But Ford says he believes the full House will defeat an impeachment resolution if one is adopted by the committeee when Congress returns from its Easter recess.

He contended there is no evidence now that Nixon is guilty of any impeachable offense, "and I don't think there will be any evidence to change that verdict.'

Ford offered his assessment during a news conference Monday after dedicating a senior citizen center. He interupted a golfing vacation for those appearances and to address an invitation-only dinner Monday night of prominent and professional men, mostly Republicans.

In reply to questions following the dinner, Ford said neither he nor the President expects Republican congressional candidates to have to defend themselves against the Water-

Pat Hearst sought in bank holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - The FBI is hunting newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst on a material witness warrant which identifies her as a member of a heavily armed gang that robbed a bank and shot and wounded two passers-by. Authorities said she may have been forced into taking part in the stickup.

Three other women previously linked to the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army were being sought on bank robbery charges after the robbery Monday. Two men also were sought in the holdup.

The SLA claims it kidnaped Miss Hearst on Feb. 4.

Miss Hearst was identified from photographs taken by hidden cameras during the robbery. Pictures showed her with a U.S. Army carbine slung over her shoulder. A U.S. attorney recommended bail at $500,000 each for her and the three other women if they are caught

The FBI said the bandits took $10,960. Two cars in which the robbers fled were recovered nine blocks away, but a search of a 20-block area by the FBI and police failed to turn up further

The material witness warrant was issued for Miss Hearst in the absence of specific evidence indicating she participated in the hold-up "of her own free will" and because she may have "been acting under duress and coercion," FBI Special Agent Charles W. Bates

He told reporters, "We are not ruling out the possibility that she was a willing participant. On the other hand, there is evidence she was not.'

Bates said a photo showing her with a gun also showed that "there was a gun held by another person on her."

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. said, "If she was involved and investigation shows that, we're going to charge her as a bank robber. It is clear from the photographs she may have been acting under duress."

It was the first word of Miss Hearst since an April 3 taped message from

In Jerusalem, Israeli President Ephraim Katzir's office said he has granted the Labor party more time to name a new premier to replace Golda Meir, who resigned last week and is now heading a caretaker government.

The statement said Katzir asked the country's biggest party to name its candidate "as soon as possible." Some sources said the president had given the Laborites until April 24, while other reports said his deadline was April 28.

Labor's leading contenders for the premiership are Minister of Labor Yitzhak Rabin; Yosef Almogi, the mayor of Haifa, and Justice Minister Haim Zadok.

food budget to the breaking point, the council said the retail food industry was not responsible. It said the industry generally complied very well with the administration's price control programs of the past 21/2 years and that profitability of food retailers only began to recover last year after a general decline from 1969 through 1972. The council said of the $18 billion increase in consumer food expenditures last year, $12 billion went directly to pay for rising farm prices, $5.9 billion for higher costs of such items as transportation, wages and taxes, with only $100 million of the increase going to the food industry.

Still subject to the administration's price control is much of the food manufacturing industry, including bakeries, the dairy industry, the cereal industry and processors of frozen foods. The canning industry was decontrolled previously.

Only a few major industries remain subject to controls with only two weeks to go in the controls program.

The decontrol of the retail and wholesale food industry freed from wage controls about 2.5 million employes in the food industry.

Major candidates for Ohio offices disclose finances

By The Associated Press

Major candidates for statewide office in the May primary made income tax day 1974 the day to disclose their past financial histories

Gov. John J. Gilligan, a candidate for re-election; U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, and John Glenn, candidates for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate, unveiled their 1973 incomes Monday.

In other political news, Rep. Charles Fry, R-75 Springfield, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, proposed a public school financing plan modeled after a Michigan system. James Nolan, an opponent of Gilligan for the Democratic nomination, urged the governor to return a "whopping surplus" collected from income taxes, unused parochial aid funds and interest on unspent funds to the people. Nolan estimated the state has a $326 llion surplus in its treasury in the first nine months of fiscal 1974. Nolan recommended the funds be channeled to schools to avoid additional school tax

Fry, who is running against former Gov. James Rhodes and Columbiana County Engineer Bert Dawson Jr., said the Michigan plan provides that the state add enough money to each mill of a school district's property tax to assure $40 per mill for each pupil, a statewide minimum.

Fry said Ohio's current system, initiated in 1935, is too complex for legislators, school officials and the public to understand.

Gilligan said he and his wife earned $45,875 last year and paid federal income taxes of $11,501. Metzenbaum disclosed that he and his wife paid federal taxes of $50,422 on a taxable income of $372,194. Glenn said he paid $29,074 taxes on earnings of $119,275 for him and his wife. "I have stated repeatedly that five years ago I would have considered a request to make public my personal financial records an invasion of my privacy," Gilligan said in a statement.

"But in light of the scandals at all levels of government in recent years...I now feel that the invasion of privacy is warranted if the people of the state and this nation are to regain their faith in their elected and appointed leaders,' he said.

Glenn renewed his attacks on Metzenbaum for withholding his income tax returns for earlier years. Glenn made a lengthy disclosure of his own tax returns earlier this year. Metzenbaum contends he has revealed more of his finances than any other

Heavy fight hits Vietnam

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) North and South Vietnamese forces battled for six hours in the Central Highlands south of Pleiku and more than 250 casualties were counted, the Saigon command announced today.

The South Vietnamese government also announced it is suspending its participation in political talks with the Viet Cong in Paris because of increased Communist cease-fire violations. The talks to set up a Council of National Reconciliation and Concord and to arrange for national elections have been going on since March 19, 1973, but have made no progress.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, chief spokesman for the command, claimed 182 North Vietnamese were killed in the battle Monday, many of them by air and artillery strikes.

Government losses included 21 troops killed, Hien said.

Treasury moves to save pennies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department, acting to head off a possible nationwide penny shortage, has imposed stiff penalties for melting or exporting copper pennies.

Treasury Secretary George P.
Schultz approved the penalties of up to $10,000 and five years in prison as a result of apparent hoarding and destruction of pennies for their copper

Shultz said on Monday that demand for pennies in the last three months has totaled two billion, double the demand for the same period a year ago.

"This unprecedented increase in the outflow of pennies cannot be explained by legitimate needs for commerce and trade, but can be attributed to speculation that the metal content of the penny will ultimately exceed its face value," Shultz said.

The demand for pennies has exceeded the U.S. Mint's ability to produce copper cents in recent weeks and a few government banks have been forced to ration pennies to their customers.

The rising demand for pennies results from the rising price of copper, which is approaching the point where the copper in pennies will be worth more than a penny.

Spot copper prices hit $1.20 per pound on world markets last week, the price at which it becomes more expensive to mint pennies than the pennies are

The potential point where the copper value becomes more than the penny is $1.50 per pound.

The Treasury Department had hoped to abandon production of copper pennies and make pennies out of aluminum. But Congress has not been sympathetic to the idea, largely because of the vending machine industry.

The mint is now experimenting with a new alloy that would reduce the copper content of a penny from 95 to 70 per cent.

Rail service given push

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Ohio should lead the way in the revival of interurban passenger rail service, U.S. Sen. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, says.

Taft told a meeting of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce Monday the state should make an all-out attempt to get federal money for a Cleveland-Columbus-Cincinnati commuter train.

He said more emphasis should be placed on rail use, for passengers and freight, noting the answers may lie in present rail systems. But he said Amtrak, the national rail service, isn't doing the job.

"I'm not satisfied with its operation at all," he said. "The trains are not on time, the expansion of service I had hoped to see has not been started."

Taft called, though, for extension of Amtrak service between Boston and Chicago, which would provide daily trains through Cleveland, Toledo, Sandusky and maybe Ashtabula.

IRA escapee being sought

Nixon sets trip back to Washington

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) -President Nixon is expected to return to Washington from an Easter holiday tonight for appearances this week before hemisphere diplomats and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

A spokesman said Nixon would be host at a black-tie, White House dinner Wednesday night for ministers of the Organization of American States. The OAS will open a ministerial meeting Thursday in Atlanta.

On Thursday morning, Nixon will address the annual constitutional convention of the DAR at its Washington headquarters, his second such appearance as President.

The President and Mrs. Nixon flew to their Florida home Friday afternoon. Reportedly he has spent much of the time here relaxing with his family and with neighbor C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

The Florida White House said Monday that, as of last Saturday, Nixon had received gifts of $43,657 from more than 5,000 persons who asked that he use the money to help pay some $467,000 in back federal income taxes and interest.

While Nixon was described as 'heartened and moved' by the donations, the announcement said he ordered that all contributions be returned with thanks and that $2,581 in anonymous gifts be forwarded to the American Red Cross for relief work associated with last week's tornadoes in the Midwest and South.

The White House said the mail and telegram response to the President's tax difficulties has run 50 to 1 in his

Impeachment

Faced with determined Republican opposition and a split in his own party's ranks over the issue, Rodino yielded last week and agreed in principle to much of what the Republicans are asking. The details will be worked out after the committee returns next week.

It is likely St. Clair's role will be more restricted than some Republicans want, as Rodino tries to strike a balance between the need to preserve the constitutional purity of the process as he sees it, and the need to assure that Nixon is treated fairly.

John C. Sawhill new energy chief

Nixon plans to name John C. Sawhill as the next federal energy chief to succeed William E. Simon, sources say.

Sawhill, 37, who has been deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Office since it was formed last December, will take over after Simon is named secretary of the Treasury, probably later this week.

Simon, however, is expected to still keep his hand in energy policy, with Sawhill running day-to-day operations.

Sawhill's selection is somewhat of a surprise, especially because he contradicted Nixon on the extent of the energy crisis after the President held a news conference earlier this year.

But sources said Sawhill's strong support on Capitol Hill and the need to maintain continuity in the energy job outweighed opposition in the White House to the deputy administrator.

Nevertheless, there was intense White House debate over whether Sawhill should get the job, in view of his outspoken nature. Although Simon will be maintaining a

Hearing set on prison picketing

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) - A hearing on a preliminary injunction was scheduled today to stop picketing members of two unions from blocking entry to the Ohio State Reformatory.

Some 260 of the prison's 450 employes walked out Saturday leaving a skeleton crew of 60 supervisory and treatment workers to handle the 1,700 inmates, state officials said.

The Department of Rehabilitation and Correction won a restraining order Saturday in Richland County Common Pleas Court to unclog prison entrances of pickets.

The order was ignored, according to Joe Ashley, a spokesman for the corrections department.

The two unions-the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes and the Ohio Civil Service Employes Associationreportedly submitted a list of complaints five months ago. No disagreement over wages was in-

Nader attacks oil companies

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) - Consumer advocate Ralph Nader has accused the major oil companies of irresponsibility and collusion in fostering what he termed a phony energy crisis, by reducing the supply of fuel and raising the price of oil and gasoline.

He called for a national energy policy to protect the consumer rather than to benefit the oil companies.

Speaking at the University of Kentucky Monday night, he charged that President Nixon was not interested in pursuing a policy of consumer protection-and said the only evidence of any attempt to solve the energy shortage was raising the price of fuel in order to reduce the demand.

Pryor, 34, could receive as much as a year in prison and a $10,000 fine as a result of the plea. Federal Judge Manuel Real set sentencing for May 6.

Cincy Zoo state record for gorillas

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)- The Cincinnati Zoo now holds the world record for lowland gorilla birthsthanks to two gorilla couples "who are deeply in love.'

The seventh birth was recorded Monday when Penelope and King Tut became the parents of a three-pound, 11-ounce female.

An eighth arrival is expected within the month from mother-to-be Mahari and her beau Hatari.

The newborn gorilla was immediately abandoned by her mother, and zoo director Ed Maruska credited two on-duty college students with saving the young animal's life.

The unnamed gorilla's chances of survival are good, Maruska said.

The birth gave Cincinnati undisputed claim for the most lowland gorilla births. Basel, Switzerland, had shared the record with six.

"We're running out of room," said Maruska. "We've filled the gorilla house and now we're working on the lion house," he laughed.

An open-roofed rain forest building is planned for the fastgrowing family.

Maruska said he has received requests from "all over the country" from other zoos interested in purchasing a pair of young breeding gorillas.

The value of the animals has risen sharply since the United States placed a moratorium on importing gorillas. He estimated the value of the new arrival at $10,000.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Potential anticancer drugs that already have passed the safety and side-effects screening and are in use to combat tumors in mice will be evaluated in the next two years by Battelle Memorial

The National Cancer Institute awarded a $3.8 million testing contract Monday to Battelle, and Dr. William Clarke, technical manager in the program, says anywhere from 10 to 20 drugs a year could be tested.

"With any anticancer drug, you're killing cells. We're going to be trying to determine if we can change the structure of any of these compounds to minimize the loss of other (noncancer) cells," he said.

Some specific side effects the Battelle experts will be on the lookout for include damaging effects on blood cells and gastro-intestinal complications like nausea and vomiting, Clarke said.

The post-mouse laboratory testing is known technically as toxicology, and the NCI's laboratory of toxicology will monitor progress of the study.

Battelle's toxicology office in McLean, Va., also will be a part of the monitoring system, said Dr. Frank J. Rauscher, an NCI director.

Clarke says although Battelle will be assigned the testing of all drugs sifted out of the mouse screening system, a good portion will be subcontracted.

The number of subcontractor labs will depend on the number of drugs becoming available. Rauscher said studies on animals can take from one to three years, costing up to $150,000 per

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - The outcry against those big oil company profits illustrates the public doubts about the established ethics and goals of business and the slow, frustrating search for something new.

Isn't it the goal of business to make money? Every last nickel it can earn within the law? Until the game rules are changed it can be argued that to do so is the responsibility of corporate officers to shareholders.

But off and on for the past few decades the country has showed little faith in that philosophy. During the past weekend Commerce Secretary Frederick Dent said:

'If everyone rushes to grab every fast nickel, the inflation fires will be ignited anew and there will be a certain and volatile reaction from Congress and the people."

Dent was referring to the removal of Phase 4 price restraints April 30, but neither he nor anyone else has declared what should be the new criterion of corporate performance. If not profits,

One of the problems, it seems, is bigness itself. Another is shortages.

Bigness has long been feared in the United States because of the dangers of monopoly. But is it possible for small companies to compete internationally with the European and Japanese giants? Unlikely.

Is it fair for a company to profit from shortages? The old supply-demand law is that prices rise when demand exceeds supply. But can it apply in an age of pervasive and critical shortages?

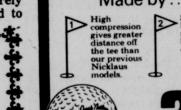

A curious, shortage-related problem involves the dichotomy of thought that must be assumed by some corporate officers, such as in oil companies and utilities, in telling customers not to buy their product.

If it isn't the duty of a company to sell as much as it can and make as much profit as it can, then what is its duty? The need for an answer is pressing; forthcoming, it would relieve much confusion.

Various businessmen, government officials, academecians and others have probed this endlessly deep question, but a consensus hasn't yet been developed. What agreement there is appears to be this:

A corporation's duty is to make money for stockholders and workers but only if in the process it can also be a good corporate citizen.

The requirement isn't that it merely operate within the law, in regard to

Health insurance impetus

The introduction of the Kennedy-Mills national health insurance proposal is of particular significance because it moves Congress a big step toward consideration of this vitally important matter.

If the momentum can be kept up now, enactment of the program before this session ends is not out of the question.

The bill offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills is a retrenchment form Kennedy's earlier proposal, and in its present form is not very much different from the administration's proposal. Thus a workable compromise seems much more likely than in the past, and only through compromise can health insurance legislation be enacted into law.

There is still a long row to hoe. There will be much tugging and hauling over various provisions. Among those sure to be debated is the limitation on family medical costs liability: the administration plan makes $1,500 the maximum; the Kennedy-Mills bill would hold this to $1,000 in a year, after which the full cost of health services would

Also, Congress will have to resolve

the question whether the program should be voluntary, as the administration wants, or all-inclusive as the Kennedy-Mills measure provides.

The important thing is that we are at last clearly moving toward establishment of an insurance plan whereby, for practical purposes, Americans would have lifetime protection against medical costs, financed along Social Security lines.

Such a program, discussed off and on for more than a quarter of a century, is long overdue. Recent events improve the prospects for early enactment.

I have some of the feelings he must have had as I read my correspondence from readers on the subject of detente. A surprising number of these missives accuse me of undermining reconciliation with the Soviet Union!

The reasoning is a bit obscure, but generally it comes down to the proposition that if we all believed hard enough in detente, it would come true. the trouble is, from where I sit, if we all believed hard enough in detente, the Soviets would take us to the cleaners.

THIS IS NOT just my paranoid imagination, "brain-washed by Cold War myths," as one reader charitably put it. The thing that drives me to desperation on occasion is that all you have to do is read what Moscow, and for that matter Peking, has to say on the nature and utility of detente.

If they kept their intentions secret, I might have more respect for my critics. But, since Lenin's time, they have laid the cards face up on the table: detente is a technique designed to lull and gull the capitalist world.

Let us go back to the words of the master, V.I. Lenin. For background we must realize that Russia, after the Revolution and "war communism, was an economic shambles, Lenin accepted Bukharin's proposition that capitalism should be allowed to operate in the USSR under careful

Though the story may be mythical, it political supervision, designed to is too good not to be true. political supervision, designed to prevent the growth of a strong capitalist class. The New Economic Policy (NEP) was set up and the welcome sign put out for foreign entrepreneurs.

However, the NEP gave Lenin political problems with his own troops. In contemporary jargon, the Bolshevik "hawks" (led by Trotsky) accused Lenin of selling out Marxism. Without getting involved in the esoteric debate, Lenin felt called upon to placate his critics and did so by accusing them of naivete, of not being tactically flexible. He pointed out that the capitalists would compete to sell the Bolsheviks the rope for hanging capitalism.

He meant it. In his "Private Notes,

1921," he elaborated the point, not without scorn for capitalist stupidity. "The capitalists of the entire world, and their governments, in the rush to conquer Soviet markets will close their eyes to the. . . realities, and will thus turn into Blind Deaf-Mutes. They will open credits which will serve as a support for the Communist party even in their own countries, and will provide us with essentially needed materials and technology which will restore our military industries, ssential for our future victorious attacks on our suppliers. . . they will be working for the preparation of their own suicides."

LET US SKIP to Moscow and "Izvestia," Nov. 27, 1973. Concerned that detente might lead to a sense of popular relaxation, the paper vigorously called for vigilance:

"The Marxist-Leninist ideology is waging an offensive against bourgeois and revisionist ideology along the whole front. Under conditions of the relaxation of tension we are faced with a crucial task: To make full use of the opportunities being opened up for a future offensive against bourgeois and revisionist ideology." Ten days before the Yom Kippur War, Radio Moscow, in Arabic, called upon the Arabs to take advantage of detente, which allegedly had weakened American ties with Israel.

This could go on indefinitely, but students pay tuition for that dubious benefit. Let me just wind up with a few words from Henry Kissinger's pal. Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, speaking to a banquet for visiting Combodian Communists.

The Red Chinese claim to be the authentic Leninists, and Chou was in that tradition: "The revolutionary people do not at all believe in so-called lasting peace or a generation of peace. So long as imperalism exists, revolution and war are inevitable."

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

On Page 1 of the April 13 edition of The Record-Herald you carried a story with the headline "Rhodes returns realtor's license" with regard to James A. Rhodes giving up his real estate broker's license.

We, who are Realtors, would like to point out two errors in this headline so that you may understand the term 'Realtor'

First, there is no Realtor's license. A Realtor is one who is a licensed real estate broker, but he does not become a Realtor until he has been accepted for membership in his local, state and national Boards of Realtors and agrees to abide by a code of ethics.

Secondlt, Realtor is a copyrighted term and should be capitalized the same as Ivory soap or Ford automobiles.

In times of such stress as the recent tornado in Xenia has caused, so many are willing to help in any way they can; some for the purpose of supplying a halo for themselves but so many more for the sake of the need of others.

We are first shocked at the awful thought of the loss of life, homes and then personal property. We feel a deep sense of sympathy and we want to help individually.

We can't all go and pitch in to help clear up and start rebuilding - this just isn't the way it has to be done. So many wanted to go help but could not get into the work because they were not trained

NOW is the time to think of the need of that training. Women can take training to help also in time of disaster - then they CAN go and help. Find out now about training.

Of course some gave a few dollars, and every bit helps — but don't pat yourself on the back and say, "I've done my share". A man we know at London, Ohio, immediately gave four of his steers that were ready for market to be processed for food for the victims; a woman gave 50 of her 200

A man at Spring Valley gave all the meat in his locker — pork, beef, veal

Yes, so many want to help, but some have to be trained to know what to do, as we can't all do the same thing. But God knows our hearts. And we can learn what we can do next time.

The problem is that I want him to have a vasectomy-an operation to make him sterile. (My brother-in-law had one and he says it was a breeze.) My husband says he doesn't want that kind of operation, and he thinks it's up to me to either take the necessary precautions or have an operation to make

Chemical plant saving energy

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) - This year, Dow Chemical will save almost a million kilowatt hours of electricity by realigning the electrical power distribution system at its chemical complex here. The savings are sufficient to provide electrical energy for about 135 Torrance homes.

The project will reduce energy consumption at the plant and still achieve the same level of production efficiency in the plant's operations.

NEW YORK (AP) - Radio humor, says Jean Shepherd, is an art "rarer than a five-winged butterfly." He should know. He's been at the art here since 1958. This year, he was set loose nationally on NBC Radio.

For those who've never heard him, Shepherd isn't your usual Manhattan wiseguy. He's more of a free association cross between Mark Twain and Herb Shriner.

It's a pity he's only heard a few minutes on NBC's "Emphasis" on weekdays and on "Monitor" weekends. He has an uncanny ability to bring

Lima State fees sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-The state Sundry Claims Board will be asked to provide $30,000-$40,000 to pay legal fees for 28 Lima State Hospital employes fired for patient abuse, an employes organization says.

Herschel M. Sigall, director of the Ohio State Government Employes Association, said Monday all state employes are "clearly entitled to the same support from their employer which is now being extended to national guardsmen who find themselves in difficulty as a result of their actions in behalf of the State of Ohio."

The reference was to the state's decision to pay for the defense of eight former guardsmen indicted in the 1970 Kent State University shootings.

The 28 hospital employes were ordered returned to their jobs with back pay after completion of the litigation. Sigall said his union, Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, will ask the legislature to protect employes in similar cases in the future.

John Dean credibility rating rises

NEW YORK (AP) - John W. Dean III has more credibility in regard to the Watergate cover-up than President Nixon, according to a Harris poll taken last month.

Forty-six per cent of those surveyed said they believed Dean more than Nixon, contrasting sharply with 38 per cent who attributed more credibility to Nixon in a poll last July.

In last month's poll, 29 per cent said they believed Nixon more than Dean. the ousted White House counsel, and 25 per cent said they were not sure.

Dean's testimony and 25 per cent were not sure whom they believed. The latest poll was conducted March 24 to 29 among a crosssection of 1,495 In answer to a question whether they believed Dean's charge that Nixon knew about the Watergate cover-up, 52 per cent said last month they believed Dean. Last July, 50 per cent said they believed Dean's charge was true.

Republican and Southerners think Nixon is more truthful than Dean, Harris said. Among white Protestants over 50 years old, Dean and Nixon believers were evenly divided.

Goodrich sets outlays

AKRON, Ohio (AP)-B.F. Goodrich plans to spend $150 million this year and the same amount next year on capital expansion projects, the firm said Monday in announcing firstquarter earnings.

A spokesman said Goodrich domestic sales outpaced general U.S. manufacturing for the first time in recent history.

Net income for the first three months totaled $14.98 million or $1.01 per share on sales of $442.72 million, compared with the equivalent 1973 period's earnings of $13.38 million or 89 cents per share on sales of $390.41 million.

The comparison of sales with general U.S. production covered the period from the fourth quarter of 1970 to the last quarter last year, the spokesman said. He said Goodrich domestic sales increased 49 per cent, compared with the 24 per cent growth in U.S. manufacturing output.

He added that manufacturing growth usually outdistanced the firm's sales advance but that company sales usually plunged more rapidly when the economy headed downward over-all.

Brock fails to intimidate Phillies

Baseball standings

By The Associated Press

Two opposing runners tried for the extra base Monday night. Larry Bowa made it; Lou Brock didn't.

Bowa scored from first base on Del Unser's single in the eighth inning. Brock didn't score in the sixth after stealing second and watching Philadelphia catcher Bob Boone throw the baseball into center field.

"Brock tries to intimidate you on the bases," explained Philadelphia second baseman Dave Cash, who threw Brock out at the plate after chasing Boone's errant heave. "I saw him go, but I knew he couldn't outrun the ball.

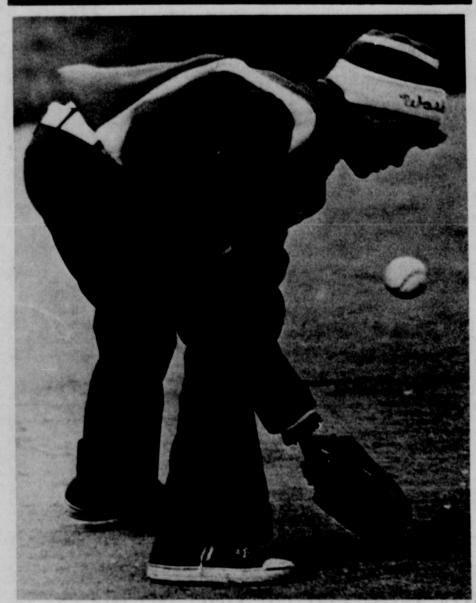

And with Brock off the basepaths, the Cardinals couldn't outscore the Phillies-dropping a 3-2 decision despite two home runs by Reggie

Little Leaguers not stopped by chilly winter air

Brisk, November-like weather did not stop nearly 80 boys from pulling out their baseball gloves Monday evening, as the first day of tryouts for the Washington Little League began at Wilson Field.

Tribe mound worries boss

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)- Pitching was on the mind of Cleveland Indians Manager Ken Aspromonte as the Tribe prepared to take on the Milwaukee Brewers tonight.

Cheered by the Indian offense, but disatisfied with some pitching performances so far, Aspromonte said he and General Manager Phil Seghi were playing a "waiting game."

"It's too early to make any moves now because most of our guys haven't really had a chance to get their feet on the ground," Aspromonte said. "But some guys are going to have to do much better than they have so far," he warned.

He said Gaylord Perry, Jim Perry and Bob Johnson have shown good form to date, but he called the others "'shaky.

Seghi, recuperating from a kidney stone operation in Lutheran Medical Center, agreed. 'The question marks that were there before are still there," he said of the hurling staff. "But that's understandable. We have to go along with what we've got until everybody gets a chance to work regularly and show us

For the first time, the program nearly had its sex barrier broken, as two young ladies came out ready to play. However, despite one of the girl's objections, relatives finally convinced the girls otherwise before they could take the field.

Little League tryouts will continue tonight at 6 p.m. Any boy, 10 years or older, who missed tryouts Monday can still come out tonight. Also, any boy who is eight or nine years old and did not play Little League last year must try out for the Minor Leagues at this

All boys must live within Union Township or the city.

Atlanta Braves blanked the San Diego Padres 6-0 and the Houston Astros trimmed the San Francisco Giants 3-1.

In the American League, the Detroit Tigers nipped the Boston Red Sox 1-0, the Milwaukee Brewers topped the Baltimore Orioles 6-1, the California Angels blasted the Minnesota Twins 8-1, and the Oakland A's defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 13 innings.

Brock's daring play may have inspired the 155-pound Bowa's attempt. "I've always made it a habit to run hard," said Bowa. "It was a gamble. If I'm out, I'm the goat." But Bowa made good his gamble. Cash was on second and Bowa on first when Unser slapped a single off second baseman Ted Sizemore's glove. As the ball skittered towards the right field foul line, Bowa scampered homeward. Cash had scored easily to give the Phillies a 2-1 lead, but Bowa's run proved the winner, as Smith slugged his second homer of the game in the ninth inning to cut the margin to 3-2.

last outing—a victory over the New York Yankees— and followed Monday by giving up only singles to Rick Miller, Doug Griffin and Mario Guerrero. The Red Sox left seven men on base.

Brewers 6, Orioles 1 Clyde Wright, who couldn't even bend over last season because of severe pain in his back, pitched a four-hitter to help Milwaukee beat the Orioles.

A two-run single by Pedro Garcia and a throwing error by Baltimore starter Mike Cuellar contributed to a five-run Milwaukee second inning.

Wright surrendered the Orioles run in the second inning, but didn't allow a hit after that inning.

Angels 8, Twins 1
The Angels had 12 hits and took advantage of five Minnesota errors in crushing the Twins. Bill Singer cruised in with a five-hitter, striking out seven and surrendering only an unearned

Joe Lahoud homered and singled, driving in two runs, while Lee Stanton, Frank Robinson, Sandy Alomar and Mickey Rivers also had two hits each. The Angels, 7-2, are off to the best start in their 14-year history.

A's 4, White Sox 3

Gene Tenace lined a single to center in the 13th inning, scoring John Donaldson to give the A's their victory.

Donaldson, who needs only 49 more days in the major leagues to qualify for his pension, had opened the 13th with a checked swing single over shortstop. He moved to second one out later when Joe Rudi grounded to Bill Melton, then Tenace delivered his game-winning hit.

Dick Allen had given the White Sox a 3-0 lead with a home run in the third inning. The hit broke an 0-for-13 batting slump for the slugger.

Oakland charged back with two runs in the fifth inning and tied in the eighth on a sacrifice fly by Reggie Jackson.

Unearned runs cost Panthers

Panther errors accounted for five unearned runs by Chillicothe, as the Cavaliers handed Miami Trace a 6-3 setback in Chillicothe, Monday af-chillicothe rocked Panther starting pitcher Randy Reiber for four unearned runs in the opening inning. After Reiber retired the first two batters, Mark Shoemaker and Mike Ratzlaff came through with back-to-back singles. Shoemaker scored when kirk Hitchens reached first on an error. First beseman Chuck Ware error. First baseman Chuck Ware singled to score Ratzlaff and Wayne Hitchens boomed a triple, bringing both Hitchens and Ware across the plate.

Miami Trace came up with its first run in the top of the third frame. Dan Jones and Steve Tarbutton reached base on a fielder's choice and base on balls, respectively. Tom Riley's double scored Jones, but the rally died with the runners on second and third.

The Panthers cut the Cavaliers' margin to 4-3, as two more runs cross the plate in the top of the fifth. Jay Mossbarger, Tarbutton and Riley each singled to load the bases. Reiber followed with a single to score Mossbarger and Tarbutton. However,

Lamonica moving to new league

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - A report that Oakland Raider quarterback Daryle Lamonica had agreed to terms with the Southern California Sun was denied Monday night by an official of the World Football League team.

The San Francisco Chronicle said it had learned that Lamonica would announce signing a million dollar, multi-year contract in news conference

Sun General Manager Curly Morrison said Monday night, however, that Lamonica had not signed with the team although negotiations with the Raider quarterback were continuing and agreement could be near.

"I'll say this, we're fairly close but we still have some negotiating to do.' Morrison said.

Lamonica, 33, would be the second quarterback to leave the Raiders for the WFL. Ken Stabler signed a million dollar contract with the Birmingham Americans starting in 1976 after completion of two years remaining on his Raider contract.

Lamonica would be free to join the Sun for the 1975 season after playing out his option in the coming season. Lamonica played with the Buffalo Bills in the American Football League before coming to Oakland in 1967.

Animal output down, prices up

By DON KENDALL AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Total liveweight of meat animals produced on the nation's farms and ranches was down last year but the higher prices pushed the value of production to a record $26.3 billion, up from $19.7 billion in 1972, says the Agriculture Department.

As used by USDA, livestock "production" means the gains in liveweight of animals during a particular year. It includes new births and the weight gains of older animals.

Thus, according to the department's Crop Reporting Board, total 1973 output of cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs was 62.5 billion pounds, compared with 63.3 billion in 1972.

The figures represent last year's weight gains of stock kept on farms, feedlots and ranches plus the 1973 added weights of animals marketed. For example, if a 600-pound steer on Jan. 1, 1973 was sold later in the year at 1,000 pounds, it added 400 pounds to the 1973 "production" total.

The analysis also showed that cash receipts from livestock sales in 1973 totaled a record $30.7 billion, up from $23.9 billion in 1972. That includes the "production" or weights of animals from 1972 and earlier years.

In other words, using the same example, when a 1,000-pound steer was

Shawnee Elementary back in business

XENIA, Ohio (AP) -Elementary School will be back in the business of education Thursday, as federal disaster officials evacuate the temporary one-stop center Wednesday night. Officials are shifting to the YMCA.

Federal officials say the move will mean no interruption of food and medical services or child care for victims of an April 3 tornado.

Meanwhile, a disaster suboffice opened Monday in the federal building in Cincinnati to serve storm victims in sold in 1973 its entire market value was included although 600 pounds of its weight was produced before Jan. 1,

That is why the gross cash receipts of $30.7 billion in 1973 were shown to be sharply higher than last year's $26.3 billion "value of production" during the same time span. The report also illustrated what happened in the cattle business last year. Production of cattle and calves in 1973 actually was a record high of 41.5 billion pounds, up about one per cent from 1972. But USDA said in earlier reports that beef output by slaughter plants dropped 6 per cent in 1973.

Thus, statistically, the report indicated what USDA experts have been saying all along: There is a buildup in cattle herd numbers despite last years' decline in beef output for supermarket counters.

The report said cash receipts from cattle marketings soared 25 per cent in 1973 to a record $22.7 billion. Hog sales were put at $7.5 billion, despite a 5 per cent dip in 1973 production to 20.1 billion pounds. The average price for cattle last year was $42.80 per 100 pounds liveweight, compared with $33.50 in 1972. Hogs were $38.40 per 100 pounds last year, up from $25.10 in 1972, the report said.

'Inner Peace' meeting scheduled

Knowing yourself and being in accord with your own feelings will be the non-productive action. topic of discussion Thursday evening when a counselor in the Inner Peace Movement speaks in the American Legion Home, 212 N. Fayette St.

Bill Wuest, of Dayton, will explain the principles of the movement which began some 10 years ago in Washington D.C. under the leadership of Francisco Coll.

Proceeding under the hypothesis that Americans had supressed their emotions in favor in intellectualism during recent decades, Coll began to stress emotion, and feeling as a vital part of the total human being, the suppression of which, he says, leads to frustration and disorientation.

Advocates of the Inner Peace philosophy stress the potential for change within the individual, pointing out the possibilities for growth, development and self-realization this approach offers. The program suggests that the individual become aware of and responsive to his or her emotions. Emotion is broken down into four component parts, feeling, intuition, vision and prophecy.

THESE FOUR components are possessed by each individual in varying degrees, according to members of the movement, and the combination of these elements determine, in large part the personality of the individual.

PERSONS in whom feeling is the dominent element, Wuest said, need to touch and to communicate. They tend to be very energetic and pay close attention to detail. If this element is greatly developed, the person may become readily perceptive of the feelings of others and may become aware of extra sensory perception, Wuest said.

The highly intuitive person, he continued, is very direct and business oriented. In general he is concerned with channeling energies, his own and those of others, to a specific purpose.

ENSLEN'S

'Intuitiveness is stressed in our society," Wuest added, with an emphasis on intellect, a bustling to get things done, and a directness which stifles feeling. Although not intinsically bad, the overemphasis in American life has distorted many personalities, the especially in persons for whom in-tuitiveness is not their natural forte, he

When the quality of vision dominates, the person tends to be concerned with large-scale scope of events. This persons is often an artist or developer senses the countenance and overall temperment of other persons more rapidly than he becomes involved with a specific aspect or problem.

The dominantly prophetic person has an unexplainable knowing of what is likely to come about. He often drifts into the future state of affairs, accepts it, and proceeds as though it were happening now. As a result this person is often misunderstood, seemingly strange, and often "ahead of his time.

Society's degrading of this person's ideas can regularly supress them even from his own mind; and if they surface in spite of society's onslaught, the person may become disoriented by the

WHEN PERSONS who have differing dominant components are in close contact, friction often develops, Wuest stated. If the husband, for instance, is intuitively orientated while the wife is very "feeling," it may take quite a bit of effort on the part of each to span the gap and be in harmony.

After the work day, the husband must concentrate on developing his feeling side, while the wife must come to un-derstand the intuitive nature of her husband and adjust to it. Each should attempt to develop (not erect a pretense of) that aspect of their being which offers the greatest communication with the other person.

The objective of the Inner Peace Movement is to encourage persons to become more introspective, to get to know themselves better, and to act in a manner which is consistent with their own feelings, Wuest said. In many cases, this is largely a matter of overcoming what others expect a person to be, and concentrating on what they are and what they wish to become.

Wuest will explain these and other aspects of the Inner Peace Movement Thursday at the American Legion Home, beginning at 8 p.m. A donation of $1.50 per person is requested to cover heart desires. And if that happens to be the down payment on a home, we can help you get the cash you need and then lend you the balance of the purchase price. Talk to us!

Writing career gets late start

By PHIL THOMAS

AP Books Editor NEW YORK (AP) Dressed in a plaid suit with a bowler riding easily on his graying hair and a black umbrella held loosely in his hand, Richard Adams looks very much the Englishman which he is.

But, as the 53-year-old novelist is quick to point out, the resemblance ends there "since I'm not reserved like so many of the English. I talk readily, freely and easily and because of this some regard me as strange." He also isn't a typical novelist, having written nothing - "just poems when I fell in love with a girl as a young fellow" - until he was 46. And then only because of the constant urging of his youngest daughter. Rosamond, 14. "If she hadn't forced me," Adams says with a laugh, "I wouldn't have sat Oliver 3 bottom pull plow, 3 pt. a laugh, "I wouldn't have sat 2 bottom plow, 3 pt. lift disc, down and written 'Watership John Deere 24T beler. The novel, a fantasy about a group of rabbits who leave their native warren in search of a new and better place to live, first appeared in England and recently was published in this country, which explained the reason behind Adams' first trip to the United States, a place he finds "warm and

"to feel you've given pleasure to thousands of people - that is very nice," considers his book a "yarn about adventure, a novel about leadership, and a hymn of prise to the English countryside" - a point he emphasizes by showing color slides of rural areas which figure prominently in the novel.

"I was brought up in the English countryside," he says, 'and I love it. We have a country cottage in Berkshire and we go there as often as we can. I know a lot about English wild animals, wild flowers and bird songs."

ADAMS recently completed another novel which is "Shardik," it deals, he says, of divine incarnation.'

The bidding:

South West North East 1 NT Dble 3♥ Pass Pass

Opening lead - four of spades.

If you examine all four hands, you might well conclude that declarer must go down one after West leads a spade and East plays three rounds of the suit, forcing dummy to ruff.

But in actual play South wound up making the contract - and furthermore there was nothing East could do to prevent the K-Q of hearts as part of his

South furthermore realized that by far his best chance of making the contract lay in trying to execute a trump endplay against East, rather than in playing the A-x of trumps in the hope of catching the K-Q doubleton.

Accordingly, he cashed the A-K of clubs and ruffed a club, after which he cashed the A-K-Q of diamonds in that order and ruffed another club.

By this time everyone was down to three cards, with dummy holding the A-8-4 of trumps, East the K-Q-5, and South the J-10-9. Declarer led the jack of trumps, following low from dummy, and East's two trump tricks suddenly dwindled to one.

It is true that against certain other distributions East might have had, declarer's plan would have failed. But it is also true that, in such case, no other plan could have succeeded - and that hence South's method of play was exceedingly well geared to making the contract if the contract could be made.

Ordinarily, point count is useful only during the bidding, but there are hands where Declarer realized that East familiarity with point count is had 16 to 18 points for his also useful during the play. This notrump overcall, and that he was one of those occasions — as was consequently bound to have South so ably demonstrated.

In Focus Charlie Pensyl It's about time to think about the Fayette County Fair and the photographs

you're going to enter in the photo exhibit this year. It's always fun to take home some of those blue ribbons, and then there is that sweepstakes award; Howard Miller will be in there working for that, but somebody may beat him this year. John Halliday may enter this year, and if you'll remember his record, this boy is tough. Regar-dless of the competition, the sooner one starts to organize his pix and plan his shooting the better will be his chances. There'll be some new names in the running this year. That's good. Some of these new lensmen in CKFN this season show promise.

The black and white print exhibit at the fair this year should be much better than it has been for the past few years. There is much more interest in darkroom work this year than there has been since TV drew the photo bugs away from the hypo trays. High school kids are discovering the fun of making their own pix.

Another area of photography that is coming back into its own is the home movies. The X L stuff (movies without lights) is a big factor; sound is another. quality of the lenses and film is another factor. The new projectors are better, too. One thing that is worse is some of the processing. Many labs don't put a lubricant on the film after it is processed — that spells trouble. Kodak labs always lubricate movie film after it is processed so that it will go through the projector with no problem. Without the projector with no problem. Without the libricant the film will jump in the projector and sometimes the sprocket holes are torn — and that's bad. Many people blame their projector when, in reality, the processing is at fault. Processing by Kodak costs more, but it surely is worth it.

Is it possible to have gall bladder disease without gall stones? I have just had X-rays become resistant to the drug? and no stones were seen. Mrs. H. M. B., Fla. Dear Miss N.:

Dear Mrs. B.: The gall bladder, like all other organs of the body, can become infected and inflamed. In most instances this condition, known as cholecystitis, is caused by the irritation of a small stone. When once the tiny tubes leading to and from the gall bladder are irritated, the lining becomes swollen and the passage of bile is interfered with. Pain is probably the most outstanding symptom of this condition. The pain, normally located in the right upper portion of the abdomen, may radiate to the shoulder and to the back. The severe pain may simulate a variety of conditions which must all be ruled out before the gall bladder can positively be identified as the culprit. Disease of the liver, the stomach and even pneumonia and heart disease may be confused with this difficult diagnosis. X-ray studies with dyes can show evidence of gall bladder infection, even in the absence of stones. . . .

Hospital trustees approve nursing scholarship fund

The Fayette Memorial Hospital board of trustees Monday night authorized the establishment of a nursing scholarship fund which will provide an incentive for prospective nurses to return to Washington C.H. for

Robert L. Kunz, hospital administrator, said the scholarship fund will be derived from a large cash contribution bequeathed to Fayette Memorial Hospital in 1969 by the late Wilbur J. Welton, a Jefferson Township farmer. The scholarship fund will be known as the "Wilbur Welton Scholarship Fund.'

Kunz said two nursing scholarships will be awarded annually. One will be awarded to a prospective nurse who has been accepted at school of registered nursing and the other will be presented to an individual who has been accepted to the Fayette Memorial Hospital practical nursing school.

TO QUALIFY for the award, the individuals must be residents of Fayette County and must have applied and have been accepted at the Fayette Memorial Hospital school or a registered nursing school.

The scholarship fund will provide full tuition, books and other related expenses such as uniforms, insurance and laboratory fees, and excluding room and board, to a maximum figure of $2,000 per year.

Kunz stressed that the scholarship fund is not a loan. When the nurses complete their schooling, they will be required to return to Fayette Memorial Hospital for a pre-determined period of time. If the obligation of working at Fayette Memorial Hospital is fulfilled, the scholarship will be considered paid,

A committee has been appointed to handle the scholarship fund applicants.

Kuwait buys jet planes from France

an agreement with France to buy Mirage F1 fighters equipped with air to ground and air to air missiles, Defense Minister Sheik Saad Abdulla al Salem announced today.

He refused to say how many Mirages Kuwait was buying or how much it was paying for them.

Local press reports have said the deal calls for 36 Mirages to be delivered

The sheik told a news conference the deal - concluded with the French government - placed no restrictions on Kuwait's use of the aircraft.

France has sold Mirages to Libya on condition that they must not be transferred to other countries to be used in action against Israel.

Kuwait has been one of the most prominent Arab countries supplying aid to the countries involved in the military struggle against Israel.

The sheik said the Mirage fighters are the fastest of their kind in the world, designed for offensive as well as defensive missions.

Kuwait is also considering deals with the United States and Britain to purchase Phantom F4 and Jaguar fighterbombers, he added.

The sheik also said Kuwait was holding negotiations to buy an antiaircraft missile network complete with radar stations and early alarm systems. But he declined to say with what country or company the negotiations were being held.

In addition, Kuwait was considering a Soviet offer of heavy artillery and tanks, he said.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. Jean Tracy, director of nursing at Fayette Memorial Hospital; Denzil Leggett, representing the board of trustees, Dr. Thomas Hancock, representing the medical staff, and Kunz. Two more committee members will be appointed at a later date, Kunz

The rules and regulations regarding the scholarship fund that are established by the committee will be subject to approval by the hospital

BOARD MEMBERS also authorized Kunz to lease central dictating equipment for the hospital. The equipment will be used primarily by the medical staff in dictating records.

The administrator's monthly report disclosed 342 admissions, 2,157 inpatient days, an average daily census of 69.58, a percentage of occupancy of 79.97, per cet of occupancy in the medical and surgical departments of 88.89, an average length of stay of 6 days, an average length of stay in the medical and surgical department of 7.07 days and 1,248 emergency room

Other figures released by the administrator were actual net revenue per patient of $74.33, a budgeted figure of $70.03 and a national average of $104.49 per patient; expenses per patient of $72.76, a budgeted figure of $70 and a national average of $103; expense per admission of $404.50, a budgeted figure of $436.07 and the national average of $766.76.

Kunz said there were 2.6 full-time employes per occupied bed during March and 2.5 for the same period a

The court heard all arguments Monday in two cases that present problems in the application of the high court's latest views on obscenity, reached only last June in a series of 5-4

A key issue in both the current cases is what kind of community standard should be applied in judging per-missible limits of sexual candor statewide or local.

In an exchange with noted attorney Louis Nizer, Stewart said he believed the issue was settled last June when the majority abandoned a national standard as unworkable and unascertainable.

The applicable community is "selfdefining" under the June decisions, said Stewart, who dissented at the

He said it is the jurisdiction from which the jury is drawn that sets the standard, a local one.

That was not good news for Nizer, who appeared before the court to argue for theater chain operator Billy Jenkins. Jenkins was fined for showing the R-rated movie "Carnal Knowledge," which was judged obscene by the standards of Albany, Ga.

Since a majority had abandoned the national standard, Nizer pleaded for a statewide one.

The second case involves the question of the standard to be applied for enforcement of the federal law against mailing obscene material. The government told the court Monday that local standards should apply even to a national law. After all, the government's lawyer told the justices, the high court itself has said a national standard is unascertainable.

Impeachment odds 50-50, Ford feels

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford says the odds are probably 50-50 that the House Judiciary Committee will recommend impeachment of President Nixon.

But Ford says he believes the full House will defeat an impeachment resolution if one is adopted by the committeee when Congress returns from its Easter recess.

He contended there is no evidence now that Nixon is guilty of any impeachable offense, "and I don't think there will be any evidence to change

Ford offered his assessment during a news conference Monday after dedicating a senior citizen center. He interupted a golfing vacation for those appearances and to address an invitation-only dinner Monday night of prominent and professional men, mostly Republicans. In reply to questions following the dinner, Ford said neither he nor the President expects Republican congressional candidates to have to defend themselves against the Water-

Pat Hearst sought in bank holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - The FBI is hunting newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst on a material witness warrant which identifies her as a member of a heavily armed gang that robbed a bank and shot and wounded two passers-by. Authorities said she may have been forced into taking part in the stickup. Three other women previously linked to the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army were being sought on bank robbery charges after the robbery Monday. Two men also were sought in the holdup.

The SLA claims it kidnaped Miss Hearst on Feb. 4.

Miss Hearst was identified from photographs taken by hidden cameras during the robbery. Pictures showed her with a U.S. Army carbine slung over her shoulder. A U.S. attorney recommended bail at $500,000 each for her and the three other women if they

The FBI said the bandits took $10,960. Two cars in which the robbers fled were recovered nine blocks away, but a search of a 20-block area by the FBI and police failed to turn up further

The material witness warrant was issued for Miss Hearst in the absence of specific evidence indicating she participated in the hold-up "of her own free will" and because she may have "been acting under duress and coercion," FBI Special Agent Charles W. Bates

He told reporters, "We are not ruling out the possibility that she was a willing participant. On the other hand, there is evidence she was not.'

Bates said a photo showing her with a gun also showed that "there was a gun held by another person on her."

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. said, "If she was involved and investigation shows that, we're going to charge her as a bank robber. It is clear from the photographs she may have been acting under duress."

It was the first word of Miss Hearst since an April 3 taped message from the SLA in which she scorned her Living Council is seeking to reassure consumers that food bills will not rise sharply in the months ahead as a result of the end of economic controls from retail and wholesale food.

The council lifted price and wage controls from both the retail and wholesale food industries Monday, two weeks earlier than it had to. All of the administration's waning price controls program is scheduled to expire on April

But the council said that while some stores might increase prices, the decontrol would not have any over-all adverse impact on food prices during the remainder of the year.

Actually, many consumers might hope for lower prices on the food shelf, since the cost of many agricultural products has been declining at the farm level for several weeks.

But a decline in food prices at the retail level is not in the works either, council officials say. Kenneth Fedor, head of the council's food division, said retail prices probably will remain about the same as food stores seek to recover some of the profits lost in earlier months when

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Cost of last year and strained many a family food budget to the breaking point, the council said the retail food industry was not responsible. It said the industry generally complied very well with the administration's price control programs of the past 2½ years and that profitability of food retailers only began to recover last year after a general decline from 1969 through 1972.

The council said of the $18 billion increase in consumer food expenditures last year, $12 billion went directly to pay for rising farm prices, $5.9 billion for higher costs of such items as transportation, wages and taxes, with only $100 million of the increase going to the food industry.

Still subject to the administration's price control is much of the food manufacturing industry, including bakeries, the dairy industry, the cereal industry and processors of frozen foods. The canning industry was decontrolled previously.

Only a few major industries remain subject to controls with only two weeks to go in the controls program.

Both unifying influences were at work last Thursday when the committee voted 33-3 to subpoena the tapes after waiting in vain since Feb. 25 for the White House to deliver them.

Although angry enough to support a subpoena vote, most Republican members favored one calling for only partial delivery of the 42 tapes when the meeting began. They were thrown into confusion when White House lawyer

James St. Clair, hoping to avoid a sub-poena, telephoned an offer to deliver some tapes, but not all.

After urging support for St. Clair's offer, the Republicans learned to their embarrassment he would not put it in writing and they dropped it.

Major candidates for Ohio offices disclose finances

By The Associated Press

Major candidates for statewide office in the May primary made income tax day 1974 the day to disclose their past financial histories.

Gov. John J. Gilligan, a candidate for re-election; U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, and John Glenn, candidates for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate, unveiled their 1973 incomes Monday.

In other political news, Rep. Charles Fry, R-75 Springfield, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, proposed a public school financing plan modeled after a Michigan system. James Nolan, an opponent of Gilligan for the Democratic nomination, urged the governor to return a "whopping surplus" collected from income taxes, sed parochial aid funds and interest on unspent funds to the people.

Nolan estimated the state has a $326 million surplus in its treasury in the first nine months of fiscal 1974. Nolan recommended the funds be channeled to schools to avoid additional school tax

Fry, who is running against former Gov. James Rhodes and Columbiana County Engineer Bert Dawson Jr., said the Michigan plan provides that the state add enough money to each mill of a school district's property tax to assure $40 per mill for each pupil, a statewide minimum.

Fry said Ohio's current system, initiated in 1935, is too complex for legislators, school officials and the public to understand.

Gilligan said he and his wife earned $45,875 last year and paid federal income taxes of $11,501. Metzenbaum disclosed that he and his wife paid federal taxes of $50,422 on a taxable income of $372,194. Glenn said he paid $29,074 taxes on earnings of $119,275 for him and his wife. "I have stated repeatedly that five years ago I would have considered a request to make public my personal financial records an invasion of my privacy," Gilligan said in a statement. "But in light of the scandals at all levels of government in recent years...I

warranted if the people of the state and this nation are to regain their faith in their elected and appointed leaders,'

Glenn renewed his attacks on Metzenbaum for withholding his income tax returns for earlier years. Glenn made a lengthy disclosure of his own tax returns earlier this year. Metzenbaum contends he has revealed more of his finances than any other U.S. senator.

Treasury moves to save pennies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department, acting to head off a possible nationwide penny shortage, has imposed stiff penalties for melting

or exporting copper pennies.

Treasury Secretary George P.
Schultz approved the penalties of up to $10,000 and five years in prison as a result of apparent hoarding and destruction of pennies for their copper

Shultz said on Monday that demand for pennies in the last three months has totaled two billion, double the demand for the same period a year ago.
"This unprecedented increase in the outflow of pennies cannot be explained by legitimate needs for commerce and trade, but can be attributed to speculation that the metal content of the penny will ultimately exceed its face value," Shultz said.

The demand for pennies has exceeded the U.S. Mint's ability to produce copper cents in recent weeks

The mint is now experimenting with a new alloy that would reduce the copper content of a penny from 95 to 70

forced to ration pennies to their customers.

The rising demand for pennies results from the rising price of copper, which is approaching the point where the copper in pennies will be worth more than a penny.

Spot copper prices hit $1.20 per pound on world markets last week, the price at which it becomes more expensive to mint pennies than the pennies are

Rail service given push

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Ohio should lead the way in the revival of interurban passenger rail service, U.S. Sen. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, says.

Taft told a meeting of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce Monday the state should make an all-out attempt to get federal money for a Cleveland-Columbus-Cincinnati commuter train.

He said more emphasis should be placed on rail use, for passengers and freight, noting the answers may lie in present rail systems. But he said Amtrak, the national rail service, isn't

"I'm not satisfied with its operation at all," he said. "The trains are not on time, the expansion of service I had hoped to see has not been started."

Taft called, though, for extension of Amtrak service between Boston and Chicago, which would provide daily trains through Cleveland, Toledo, Sandusky and maybe Ashtabula.

IRA escapee being sought

The missing man was Ivor Bell, 37, former IRA chief in Belfast, who escaped Monday. He was caught seven

The man he changed places with was being interrogated, and officials said security procedures at the prison were tightened up.

At the time of the action, the Army promised him a medal. But it never came, apparently because the recommendation was never entered into official Army records.

Nixon sets trip back to Washington

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)

President Nixon is expected to return to Washington from an Easter holiday tonight for appearances this week before hemisphere diplomats and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

A spokesman said Nixon would be host at a black-tie, White House dinner Wednesday night for ministers of the Organization of American States. The OAS will open a ministerial meeting Thursday in Atlanta.

On Thursday morning, Nixon will address the annual constitutional convention of the DAR at its Washington headquarters, his second such appearance as President. The President and Mrs. Nixon flew to their Florida home Friday afternoon. Reportedly he has spent much of the time here relaxing with his family and with neighbor, C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

The Florida White House said Monday that, as of last Saturday, Nixon had received gifts of $43,657 from more than 5,000 persons who asked that he use the money to help pay some $467,000 in back federal income taxes and interest.

While Nixon was described as 'heartened and moved' by the donations, the announcement said he ordered that all contributions be returned with thanks and that $2,581 in anonymous gifts be forwarded to the American Red Cross for relief work associated with last week's tornadoes in the Midwest and South.

The White House said the mail and telegram response to the President's tax difficulties has run 50 to 1 in his

John C. Sawhill new energy chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to name John C. Sawhill as the next federal energy chief to succeed William E. Simon, sources say.

Sawhill, 37, who has been deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Office since it was formed last December, will take over after Simon is named secretary of the Treasury, probably later this week.

Simon, however, is expected to still keep his hand in energy policy, with Sawhill running day-to-day operations. Sawhill's selection is somewhat of a surprise, especially because he contradicted Nixon on the extent of the energy crisis after the President held a news conference earlier this year.

But sources said Sawhill's strong support on Capitol Hill and the need to maintain continuity in the energy job outweighed opposition in the White House to the deputy administrator.

Nevertheless, there was intense White House debate over whether Sawhill should get the job, in view of his outspoken nature.

Although Simon will be maintaining a

Hearing set on prison picketing

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) - A hearing on a preliminary injunction was scheduled today to stop picketing members of two unions from blocking entry to the Ohio State Reformatory.

Some 260 of the prison's 450 employes walked out Saturday leaving a skeleton crew of 60 supervisory and treatment workers to handle the 1,700 inmates, state officials said.

The Department, of Rehabilitation and Correction won a restraining order Saturday in Richland County Common Pleas Court to unclog prison entrances of pickets.

The order was ignored, according to Joe Ashley, a spokesman for the corrections department.

Nader attacks oil companies

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Consumer advocate Ralph Nader has accused the major oil companies of irresponsibility and collusion in fostering what he termed a phony energy crisis, by reducing the supply of fuel and raising the price of oil and gasoline.

He called for a national energy policy to protect the consumer rather than to benefit the oil companies.

Speaking at the University of Kentucky Monday night, he charged that President Nixon was not interested in pursuing a policy of consumer protection—and said the only evidence of any attempt to solve the energy shortage was raising the price of fuel in order to reduce the demand.

Cincy Zoo state record for gorillas

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Cincinnati Zoo now holds the world record for lowland gorilla birthsthanks to two gorilla couples "who are deeply in love."

The seventh birth was recorded Monday when Penelope and King Tut became the parents of a three-pound, 11-ounce female.

An eighth arrival is expected within the month from mother-to-be Mahari and her beau Hatari.

The newborn gorilla was immediately abandoned by her mother, and zoo director Ed Maruska credited two on-duty college students with saving the young animal's life.

The unnamed gorilla's chances of survival are good, Maruska said. The birth gave Cincinnati undisputed claim for the most lowland gorilla births. Basel, Switzerland, had shared the record with six. "We're running out of room," said Maruska. "We've filled the gorilla house and now we're working on the

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - The outcry against those big oil company profits illustrates the public doubts about the established ethics and goals of business and the slow, frustrating search for something new.

Isn't it the goal of business to make money? Every last nickel it can earn within the law? Until the game rules are changed it can be argued that to do so is the responsibility of corporate officers to shareholders. But off and on for the past few decades the country has showed little faith in that philosophy. During the past weekend Commerce Secretary

Frederick Dent said: "If everyone rushes to grab every fast nickel, the inflation fires will be ignited anew and there will be a certain and volatile reaction from Congress and the people."

Dent was referring to the removal of Phase 4 price restraints April 30, but neither he nor anyone else has declared what should be the new criterion of corporate performance. If not profits,

One of the problems, it seems, is bigness itself. Another is shortages.

igness has long been feared in the United States because of the dangers of monopoly. But is it possible for small companies to compete internationally with the European and Japanese giants? Unlikely.

Is it fair for a company to profit from shortages? The old supply-demand law is that prices rise when demand exceeds supply. But can it apply in an age of pervasive and critical shortages?

A curious, shortage-related problem involves the dichotomy of thought that must be assumed by some corporate officers, such as in oil companies and utilities, in telling customers not to buy their product.

If it isn't the duty of a company to sell as much as it can and make as much profit as it can, then what is its duty? The need for an answer is pressing; forthcoming, it would relieve much confusion.

Various businessmen, government officials, academecians and others have probed this endlessly deep question, but a consensus hasn't yet been developed. What agreement there is appears to be this:

A corporation's duty is to make money for stockholders and workers but only if in the process it can also be a good corporate citizen.

The requirement isn't that it merely operate within the law, in regard to

Health insurance impetus

The introduction of the Kennedy-Mills national health insurance proposal is of particular significance because it moves Congress a big step toward consideration of this vitally ortant matter.

important matter.

If the momentum can be kept up now, enactment of the program before this session ends is not out of the question.

The bill offered by Sen. Edward M.
Kennedy and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills is a retrenchment form Kennedy's earlier proposal, and in its present form is not very much different from the administration's proposal. Thus a workable compromise seems much more likely than in the past, and only through compromise can health insurance legislation be enacted into law.

There is still a long row to hoe.
There will be much tugging and hauing over various provisions.
Among those sure to be debated is the limitation of facility and facility. the limitation on family medical costs liability: the administration plan makes $1,500 the maximum; the Kennedy-Mills bill would hold this to $1,000 in a year, after which the full cost of health services would

the question whether the program should be voluntary, as the administration wants, or all-inclusive as the Kennedy-Mills measure

The important thing is that we are at last clearly moving toward establishment of an insurance plan whereby, for practical purposes, Americans would have lifetime protection against medical costs, financed along Social Security lines.

Such a program, discussed off and on for more than a quarter of a century, is long overdue. Recent events improve the prospects for early enactment.

Though the story may, be mythical, it is too good not to be true.

When the first member of the newly formed United States Weather Bureau arrived at a town in central Kansas, where his headquarters were located, he promptly got his instruments and went to work. Something seemed odd—the barometer was acting eccentrically—and suddenly he recalled his manual and the material on predicting tor-

Sure enough, the instruments seemed to be suggesting a "cyclone." He rushed out to warn the townspeople. They thought he was some kind of a nut, until the tornado hit. Then they went looking for the weatherman to lynch him for "his" tornado.

I have some of the feelings he must have had as I read my correspondence from readers on the subject of detente. A surprising number of these missives accuse me of undermining reconciliation with the Soviet Union!

The reasoning is a bit obscure, but generally it comes down to the proposition that if we all believed hard enough in detente, it would come true. the trouble is, from where I sit, if we all believed hard enough in detente, the Soviets would take us to the cleaners.

THIS IS NOT just my paranoid imagination, "brain-washed by Cold War myths," as one reader charitably put it. The thing that drives me to desperation on occasion is that all you have to do is read what Moscow, and for that matter Peking, has to say on the nature and utility of detente.

If they kept their intentions secret, I might have more respect for my critics. But, since Lenin's time, they have laid the cards face up on the table: detente is a technique designed to lull and gull the capitalist world.

Let us go back to the words of the master, V.I. Lenin. For background we must realize that Russia, after the Revolution and "war communism," was an economic shambles, Lenin accepted Bukharin's proposition that capitalism should be allowed to operate in the USSR under careful political supervision, designed to prevent the growth of a strong capitalist class. The New Economic Policy (NEP) was set up and the welcome sign put out for foreign entrepreneurs.

However, the NEP gave Lenin political problems with his own troops. In contemporary jargon, the Bolshevik "hawks" (led by Trotsky) accused Lenin of selling out Marxism. Without getting involved in the esoteric debate, Lenin felt called upon to placate his critics and did so by accusing them of naivete, of not being tactically flexible. He pointed out that the capitalists would compete to sell the capitalists the rope for hanging capitalism.

He meant it. In his "Private Notes,

1921." he elaborated the point, not without scorn for capitalist stupidity. "The capitalists of the entire world, and their governments, in the rush to conquer Soviet markets will close their eyes to the. . . realities, and will thus turn into Blind Deaf-Mutes. They will open credits which will serve as a support for the Communist party even in their own countries, and will provide us with essentially needed materials and technology which will restore our military industries, essential for our future victorious attacks on our suppliers. . . they will be working for the preparation of their

LET US SKIP to Moscow and "Izvestia," Nov. 27, 1973. Concerned that detente might lead to a sense of popular relaxation, the paper vigorously called for vigilance:

"The Marxist-Leninist ideology is waging an offensive against bourgeois and revisionist ideology along the whole front. Under conditions of the relaxation of tension we are faced with a crucial task: To make full use of the opportunities being opened up for a future offensive against bourgeois and revisionist ideology." Ten days before the Yom Kippur War, Radio Moscow, in Arabic, called upon the Arabs to take advantage of detente, which allegedly had weakened American ties

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

On Page 1 of the April 13 edition of The Record-Herald you carried a story with the headline "Rhodes returns realtor's license" with regard to James A. Rhodes giving up his real estate broker's license.

We, who are Realtors, would like to point out two errors in this headline so that you may understand the term "Realtor".

First, there is no Realtor's license. A Realtor is one who is a licensed real estate broker, but he does not become a Realtor until he has been accepted for membership in his local, state and national Boards of Realtors and agrees to abide by a code of ethics.

Secondlt, Realtor is a copyrighted term and should be capitalized the same as Ivory soap or Ford automobiles.

In times of such stress as the recent tornado in Xenia has caused, so many are willing to help in any way they can; some for the purpose of supplying a halo for themselves but so many more for the sake of the need of others.

We are first shocked at the awful then personal property. We feel a deep sense of sympathy and we want to help alleviate as much of the loss as we can individually.

We can't all go and pitch in to help clear up and start rebuilding — this just isn't the way it has to be done. So many wanted to go help but could not get into the work because they were not trained

NOW is the time to think of the need of that training. Women can take training to help also in time of disaster—then they CAN go and help. Find out now about training.

Of course some gave a few dollars, and every bit helps — but don't pat yourself on the back and say, "I've done my share". A man we know at London, Ohio, immediately gave four of his steers that were ready for market - to be processed for food for the victims; a woman gave 50 of her 200

A man at Spring Valley gave all the meat in his locker - pork, beef, veal and chicken.

Yes, so many want to help, but some have to be trained to know what to do, as we can't all do the same thing. But God knows our hearts. And we can learn what we can do next time.

Dear Abby:

A childless marriage -

Who bears burden?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for six years, and I definitely have made my mind up that I do not want any children. My husband says if that's the way I feel about it it's alright with him.

The problem is that I want him to have a vasectomy-an operation to make him sterile. (My brother-in-law had one and he says it was a breeze.) My husband says he doesn't want that kind of operation, and he thinks it's up to me to either take the necessary precautions or have an operation to make me sterile.

I would like your opinion. NO CHILDREN THANKS

DEAR NO: Since it was your decision to have no children, I think it's up to you to take the precautions instead of insisting that your husband subject himself to a vasectomy. Be realistic. If you were to divorce your husband (or die) and he were to marry again, he and his next mate might want children. As for a vasectomy being a "breeze," one man's breeze is another

Although his NBC effort and most of his local radio work concern modern persons, themes and events, much of Shepherd's fame stems from his spoken and written observations about youth in a rotting town.

He spins magnificent yarns about crappie fishing in fetid ponds, men who drink lots of boilermakers, life at Warren G. Harding School and mythical boyhood pals like Schwartz, Flick, Broder and Cosnowski.

He is considered a master of blue-collar nostalgia. He also considers this honor a bum rap.

"I'm not a reminiscer," he groused.
"I'm no more of a reminiscer than Bill Cosby. No, I'm serious. I've often wondered why, when Cosby talks about his mythical boyhood friends, he's never called nostalgia."

Shepherd, who does a 45-minute show on a local station here each weeknight, finds his audience a bit weird. They usually seem to recall only his dissertations on growing up in northern "I don't know why that is," he said.

"I've discovered that any time you mention anything to do with childhood on the air that's as powerful to people as sex.

"The next thing you know, they think that's all you ever talk about," he said, referring to childhood. "I'll do three shows of satire on Norman Mailer and never hear a word about it, except from out of town.

Alas, the local radio image he hates may wind up on national TV because he wrote "Wanda Hickey's Night of Golden Memories and Other Disasters," a collection of short stories about his adolescence.

He says there's a strong possiblity the book will be made into a TV movie this fall. The producers, he added, "want to use it as the basis for a series and I'd work in it both as a writer and

Associated Press Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two selfstyled country boys from southeastern Ohio are battling it out in a state senate primary race that has the attention of lawmakers all over the state.

The contestants are Sen. Harry L. Armstrong, R-17 Logan, and his former Senate colleague, now a House member, Rep. Oakley C. Collins, R-92 Ironton.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-The state Sundry Claims Board will be asked to provide $30,000-$40,000 to pay legal fees for 28 Lima State Hospital employes fired for patient abuse, an em-

Herschel M. Sigall, director of the Ohio State Government Employes Association, said Monday all state employes are "clearly entitled to the same support from their employer which is now being extended to national guardsmen who find themselves in difficulty as a result of their actions in behalf of the State of Ohio."

The reference was to the state's decision to pay for the defense of eight former guardsmen indicted in the 1970 Kent State University shootings.

The 28 hospital employes were or-dered returned to their jobs with back pay after completion of the litigation. Sigall said his union, Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, will ask the legislature to protect employes in similar cases in the future.

The prize both are going after in the basically Republican district is the seat now held by Armstrong. Reapportionment two years ago

YOU'D BETTER READ THAT FINE PRINT BEFORE SIGNING

Do NOT sign anything "blind-folded" — especially an in-stallment purchase contract!

Read the fine print, and look for the hidden loopholes and con-ditions which you would not, knowingly, agree to.

Do you want your employer to be forced to deduct payments from your salary?

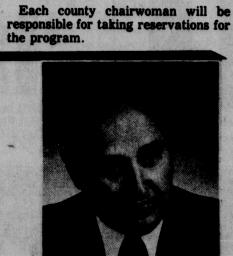

Would you want the store to repossess other items you have already paid for, if you miss a payment?

Do you want all remaining payments to be due immediately, if you miss a payment?

Are you aggreeable to a rather high final payment?

Are there any blanks that are not filled in?

Not everything is as it seems!

Woman treated Fayette Memorial after kitchen grease blaze

A Washington C.H. woman was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital for treatment for smoke inhalation incurred from a kitchen grease fire at her residence at 4:31 p.m. Monday.

Specialist Larry Hott, of the Washington C.H. Police Department, was summoned to the home of Brenda K. Dawson, 20, of 334 Fifth St., to investigate a fire report.

When he arrived, he saw Mrs. Dawson exit from the rear of the house coughing and choking and he transported her to the emergency room at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

The Washington C.H. Fire Department was summoned and extinguished the grease fire they found burning on the stove, with carbon dioxide extinguishers and water.

Mrs. Dawson, in the meantime, was treated and released from the hospital. The owner of the home, Lucy Griffith, had insurance to cover the $30 damage estimate made by firemen at the scene.

Kiwanis Club votes aid for disaster area

The Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club met Monday at the Lafayette Inn and welcomed L. Lester Bower into membership. Bower, who recently joined the Fayette County Bank staff, had requested that his membership be transferred from New Boston to Washington C.H.

A number of items were on the agenda, including the Xenia relief program, the Teen Talent Show, the care and cleanup of Old Washington Cemetery, and a trip for some students of the Fayette Progressive School.

The members voted to send $200 to the Xenia Kiwanis Club to aid the relief for tornado victims.

Rehearsals for the Teen Talent Show are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. The show will be held Friday in the Junior High School Auditorium.

Don Riber is in charge of production and is being assisted by Mrs. Rick Stinson. Jim Pidcock will be Friday's master of ceremonies.

Eight members of the club volunteered their time next Saturday to provide lawn care, trimming and clean-up of the Old Washington Cemetery.

Left stranded were students from University of Cincinnati and Xavier

Soiu said he planned the trip to pay off debts for his college education. He is an honor graduate from Xavier. Strike threatened

Two opposing runners tried for the extra base Monday night. Larry Bowa made it; Lou Brock didn't.

Bowa scored from first base on Del Unser's single in the eighth inning. Brock didn't score in the sixth after stealing second and watching Philadelphia catcher Bob Boone throw the baseball into center field.

"Brock tries to intimidate you on the bases," explained Philadelphia second baseman Dave Cash, who threw Brock out at the plate after chasing Boone's errant heave. "I saw him go, but I knew he couldn't outrun the ball."

And with Brock off the basepaths, the Cardinals couldn't outscore the Phillies-dropping a 3-2 decision despite two home runs by Reggie

Tribe mound worries boss

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)- Pitching was on the mind of Cleveland Indians Manager Ken Aspromonte as the Tribe prepared to take on the Milwaukee Brewers tonight.

Cheered by the Indian offense, but disatisfied with some pitching per-formances so far, Aspromonte said he and General Manager Phil Seghi were playing a "waiting game."

"It's too early to make any moves now because most of our guys haven't really had a chance to get their feet on the ground," Aspromonte said. "But some guys are going to have to do much better than they have so far," he

He said Gaylord Perry, Jim Perry and Bob Johnson have shown good form to date, but he called the others

"shaky." Seghi, recuperating from a kidney stone operation in Lutheran Medical Center, agreed. "The question marks that were there before are still there," he said of the hurling staff. "But that's understandable. We have to go along with what we've got until everybody gets a chance to work regularly and show us what they can do."

For the first time, the program nearly had its sex barrier broken, as two young ladies came out ready to play. However, despite one of the girl's objections, relatives finally convinced the girls otherwise before they could

Little League tryouts will continue tonight at 6 p.m. Any boy, 10 years or older, who missed tryouts Monday can still come out tonight. Also, any boy who is eight or nine years old and did not play Little League last year must try out for the Minor Leagues at this

Atlanta Braves blanked the San Diego Padres 6-0 and the Houston Astros trimmed the San Francisco Giants 3-1.

In the American League, the Detroit Tigers nipped the Boston Red Sox 1-0, the Milwaukee Brewers topped the Baltimore Orioles 6-1, the California Angels blasted the Minnesota Twins 8-1, and the Oakland A's defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 13 innings.

Brock's daring play may have inspired the 155-pound Bowa's attempt. "I've always made it a habit to run hard," said Bowa. "It was a gamble. If I'm out, I'm the goat."

But Bowa made good his gamble. Cash was on second and Bowa on first when Unser slapped a single off second baseman Ted Sizemore's glove. As the ball skittered towards the right field foul line, Bowa scampered homeward.

Cash had scored easily to give the Phillies a 2-1 lead, but Bowa's run proved the winner, as Smith slugged his second homer of the game in the ninth inning to cut the margin to 3-2.

Gene Tenace lined a single to center in the 13th inning, scoring John Donaldson to give the A's their victory.

Donaldson, who needs only 49 more days in the major leagues to qualify for his pension, had opened the 13th with a checked swing single over shortstop. He moved to second one out later when Joe Rudi grounded to Bill Melton, then Tenace delivered his game-winning hit.

Dick Allen had given the White Sox a 3-0 lead with a home run in the third inning. The hit broke an 0-for-13 batting inning. The hit broke an 0-for-13 batting slump for the slugger.

Oakland charged back with two runs in the fifth inning and tied in the eighth on a sacrifice fly by Reggie Jackson.

Unearned runs cost Panthers

Panther errors accounted for five unearned runs by Chillicothe, as the Cavaliers handed Miami Trace a 6-3 setback in Chillicothe, Monday afillicothe rocked Panther starting pitcher Randy Reiber for four unearned runs in the opening inning. After Reiber retired the first two batters, Mark Shoemaker and Mike Ratzlaff came through with back-to-back singles. Shoemaker scored when Kirk Hitchens reached first on an error. First baseman Chuck Ware singled to score Ratzlaff and Wayne Hitchens boomed a triple, bringing both Hitchens and Ware across the plate.

Miami Trace came up with its first run in the top of the third frame. Dan Jones and Steve Tarbutton reached base on a fielder's choice and base on balls, respectively. Tom Riley's double scored Jones, but the rally died with the runners on second and third.

The Panthers cut the Cavaliers' margin to 4-3, as two more runs cross the plate in the top of the fifth. Jay

Lamonica moving to new league

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - A report that Oakland Raider quarterback Daryle Lamonica had agreed to terms with the Southern California Sun was denied Monday night by an official of the World Football League team.

The San Francisco Chronicle said it had learned that Lamonica would announce signing a million dollar, multi-year contract in news conference Tuesday.

Sun General Manager Curly Morrison said Monday night, however, that Lamonica had not signed with the team although negotiations with the Raider quarterback were continuing and agreement could be near.

and agreement could be near.

"I'll say this, we're fairly close but we still have some negotiating to do."

Morrison said.

Lamonica, 33, would be the second quarterback to leave the Raiders for the WFL. Ken Stabler signed a million dollar contract with the Birmingham Americans starting in 1976 after completion of two years remaining on his Raider contract. Lamonica would be free to join the Sun for the 1975 season after playing out his option in the coming season."

Lamonica played with the Buffalo Bills in the American Football League before coming to Oakland in 1967.

Washington C.H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 11: Tuesday, April 16, 1974 Animal output down, prices up

By DON KENDALL AP Farm Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Total

liveweight of meat animals produced on the nation's farms and ranches was down last year but the higher prices pushed the value of production to a record $26.3 billion, up from $19.7 billion in 1972, says the Agriculture Department. As used by USDA, livestock "production" means the gains in liveweight of animals during a par-ticular year. It includes new births and the weight gains of older animals.

Thus, according to the department's Crop Reporting Board, total 1973 output of cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs was 62.5 billion pounds, compared with 63.3 billion in 1972.

The figures represent last year's weight gains of stock kept on farms, feedlots and ranches plus the 1973 added weights of animals marketed. For example, if a 600-pound steer on Jan. 1, 1973 was sold later in the year at 1,000 pounds, it added 400 pounds to the 1973 "production" total.

The analysis also showed that cash

The analysis also showed that cash receipts from livestock sales in 1973 totaled a record $30.7 billion, up from $23.9 billion in 1972. That includes the "production" or weights of animals from 1972 and earlier years.

In other words, using the same example, when a 1,000-pound steer was back in business XENIA. Ohio (AP) - Shawnee Elementary School will be back in the business of education Thursday, as federal disaster officials evacuate the temporary one-stop center Wednesday night. Officials are shifting to the YMCA.

Federal officials say the move will mean no interruption of food and medical services or child care for victims of an April 3 tornado.

Meanwhile, a disaster suboffice opened Monday in the federal building in Cincinnati to serve storm victims in

sold in 1973 its entire market value was included although 600 pounds of its weight was produced before Jan. 1,

That is why the gross cash receipts of $30.7 billion in 1973 were shown to be sharply higher than last year's $26.3 billion "value of production" during the same time span The report also illustrated what happened in the cattle business last year. Production of cattle and calves in 1973 actually was a record high of 41.5 billion pounds, up about one per cent from 1972. But USDA said in earlier reports that beef output by slaughter plants dropped 6 per cent in 1973.

Thus, statistically, the report indicated what USDA experts have been saying all along: There is a buildup in cattle herd numbers despite last years' decline in beef output for supermarket

The report said cash receipts from cattle marketings soared 25 per cent in 1973 to a record $22.7 billion. Hog sales were put at $7.5 billion, despite a 5 per cent dip in 1973 production to 20.1 billion pounds.

The average price for cattle last year was $42.80 per 100 pounds liveweight, compared with $33.50 in 1972. Hogs were $38.40 per 100 pounds last year, up from $25.10 in 1972, the report said.

'Inner Peace' meeting scheduled

Knowing yourself and being in ac- Touch is often overlooked by him as a cord with your own feelings will be the topic of discussion Thursday evening when a counselor in the Inner Peace Movement speaks in the American Legion Home, 212 N. Fayette St.

Bill Wuest, of Dayton, will explain the principles of the movement which began some 10 years ago in Washington D.C. under the leadership of Francisco Coll.

Proceeding under the hypothesis that Americans had supressed their emotions in favor in intellectualism during recent decades, Coll began to part of the total human being, the suppression of which, he says, leads to frustration and disorientation.

Advocates of the Inner Peace philosophy stress the potential for change within the individual, pointing out the possibilities for growth, development and self-realization this approach offers.

The program suggests that the in-dividual become aware of and responsive to his or her emotions. Emotion is broken down into four component parts, feeling, intuition, vision and prophecy.

THESE FOUR components are possessed by each individual in varying degrees, according to members of the movement, and the combination of these elements determine, in large part the personality of the individual.

PERSONS in whom feeling is the dominent element, Wuest said, need to touch and to communicate. They tend to be very energetic and pay close attention to detail. If this element is greatly developed, the person may become readily perceptive of the feelings of others and may become aware of extra sensory perception, Wuest said.

The highly intuitive person, he continued, is very direct and business oriented. In general he is concerned with channeling energies, his own and those of others, to a specific purpose.

non-productive action. "Intuitiveness is stressed in our society," Wuest added, with an emphasis on intellect, a bustling to get things done, and a directness which stifles feeling. Although not intinsically bad, the overemphasis in American life has distorted many personalities, the especially in persons for whom intuitiveness is not their natural forte, he

When the quality of vision dominates. the person tends to be concerned with large-scale scope of events. This persons is often an artist or developer and senses the countenance and overall temperment of other persons more rapidly than he becomes involved with a specific aspect or problem.

The dominantly prophetic person has an unexplainable knowing of what is likely to come about. He often drifts into the future state of affairs, accepts it, and proceeds as though it were happening now. As a result this person is often misunderstood, seemingly strange, and often "ahead of his time."

Society's degrading of this person's ideas can regularly supress them even from his own mind; and if they surface in spite of society's onslaught, the person may become disoriented by the

WHEN PERSONS who have differing dominant components are in close contact, friction often develops, Wuest stated. If the husband, for instance, is intuitively orientated while the wife is very "feeling," it may take quite a bit of effort on the part of each to span the gap and be in harmony.

After the work day, the husband must concentrate on developing his feeling side, while the wife must come to un-derstand the intuitive nature of her husband and adjust to it. Each should attempt sto develop (not erect a pretense of) that aspect of their being which offers the greatest communication with the other person. The objective of the Inner Peace Movement is to encourage persons to become more introspective, to get to know themselves better, and to act in a manner which is consistent with their own feelings, Wuest said.

In many cases, this is largely a matter of overcoming what others expect a person to be, and concentrating on what they are and what they wish to become.

Wuest will explain these and other aspects of the Inner Peace Movement Thursday at the American Legion Home, beginning at 8 p.m. A donation of $1.50 per person is requested to cover where we can help you save for anything your heart desires. And if that happens to be the down payment on a home, we can help you get the cash you need and then lend you the balance of the purchase price. Talk to us!

South furthermore realized that by far his best chance of making the contract lay in trying to execute a trump end-play against East, rather than in playing the A-x of trumps in the hope of catching the K-Q doubleton.

Accordingly, he cashed the A-K of clubs and ruffed a club, after which he cashed the A-K-Q of diamonds in that order and ruffed another club.

By this time everyone was down to three cards, with dummy holding the A-8-4 of trumps, East the K-Q-5, and South the J-10-9. Declarer led the jack of trumps, following low from dummy, and East's two trump tricks suddenly dwindled to one.

It is true that against certain other distributions East might have had, declarer's plan would have failed. But it is also true that, in such case, no other plan could have succeeded - and that hence South's method of play was exceedingly well geared to making the contract if the contract could be made.

In Focus Charlie Pensyl

It's about time to think about the Fayette County Fair and the photographs you're going to enter in the photo exhibit this year. It's always fun to take home some of those blue ribbons, and then there is that sweepstakes award; Howard Miller will be in there working for that, but somebody may beat him this year. John Halliday may enter this year, and if you'll remember his record, this boy is tough. Regar-dless of the competition, the sooner one starts to organize his pix and plan his shooting the better will be his chances.

There'll be some new names in the running this year. That's good. Some of these new lensmen in CKFN this season show promise.

The black and white print exhibit at the fair this year should be much better than it has been for the past few years. There is much more interest in darkroom work this year than there has been since TV drew the photo bugs away from the hypo trays. High school kids are discovering the fun of making their own pix.

Another area of photography that is coming back into its own is the home movies. The X L stuff (movies without ights) is a big factor; sound is another. quality of the lenses and film is another factor. The new projectors are better, too. One thing that is worse is some of the processing. Many labs don't put a lubricant on the film after it is processed — that spells trouble. Kodak labs always lubricate movie film after it is processed so that it will go through the projector with no problem. Without the libricant the film will jump in the projector and sometimes the sprocket holes are torn — and that's bad. Many people blame their projector when, in reality, the processing is at fault. Processing by Kodak costs more, but it surely is worth it.

Hospital trustees approve nursing scholarship fund

The Fayette Memorial Hospital board of trustees Monday night authorized the establishment of a nursing scholarship fund which will provide an incentive for prospective nurses to return to Washington C.H. for their profession.

Robert L. Kunz, hospital administrator, said the scholarship fund will be derived from a large cash contribution bequeathed to Fayette Memorial Hospital in 1969 by the late Wilbur J. Welton, a Jefferson Township farmer. The scholarship fund will be known as the "Wilbur Welton Scholarship Fund."

Kunz said two nursing scholarships will be awarded annually. One will be awarded to a prospective nurse who has been accepted at school of registered nursing and the other will be presented to an individual who has been accepted to the Fayette Memorial Hespital practical nursing school.

TO QUALIFY for the award, the individuals must be residents of Fayette County and must have applied and have been accepted at the Fayette Memorial Hospital school or a registered nursing school.

The scholarship fund will provide full tuition, books and other related expenses such as uniforms, insurance and laboratory fees, and excluding room and board, to a maximum figure of

$2,000 per year. Kunz stressed that the scholarship fund is not a loan. When the nurses complete their schooling, they will be required to return to Fayette Memorial Hospital for a pre-determined period of time. If the obligation of working at Fayette Memorial Hospital is fulfilled, the scholarship will be considered paid,

A committee has been appointed to handle the scholarship fund applicants.

Kuwait buys jet planes from France

KUWAIT (AP) — Kuwait has signed an agreement with France to buy Mirage F1 fighters equipped with air to ground and air to air missiles, Defense Minister Sheik Saad Abdulla al Salem announced today.

He refused to say how many Mirages Kuwait was buying or how much it was

Local press reports have said the deal calls for 36 Mirages to be delivered

The sheik told a news conference the deal - concluded with the French government — placed no restrictions on Kuwait's use of the aircraft.

France has sold Mirages to Libya on condition that they must not be transferred to other countries to be used in action against Israel.

Kuwait has been one of the most prominent Arab countries supplying aid to the countries involved in the military struggle against Israel.

The sheik said the Mirage fighters "are the fastest of their kind in the world, designed for offensive as well as defensive missions.'

Kuwait is also considering deals with the United States and Britain to purchase Phantom F4 and Jaguar fighterbombers, he added.

The sheik also said Kuwait was holding negotiations to buy an antiaircraft missile network complete with radar stations and early alarm systems. But he declined to say with what country or company the negotiations were being held.

In addition, Kuwait was considering a Soviet offer of heavy artillery and tanks, he said.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. Jean Tracy, director of nursing at Fayette Memorial Hospital; Denzil Leggett, representing the board of trustees, Dr. Thomas Hancock, representing the medical staff, and Kunz. Two more committee members will be appointed at a later date, Kunz

The rules and regulations regarding the scholarship fund that are established by the committee will be subject to approval by the hospital

BOARD MEMBERS also authorized Kunz to lease central dictating equipment for the hospital. The equipment will be used primarily by the medical staff in dictating records.

The administrator's monthly report disclosed 342 admissions, 2,157 in-patient days, an average daily census of 69.58, a percentage of occupancy of 79.97, per cet of occupancy in the medical and surgical departments of 88.89, an average length of stay of 6 days, an average length of stay in the medical and surgical department of 7.07 days and 1,248 emergency room
